Dear Theo Vincent Van Gogh

This is a wonderful book of letters that Van Gogh wrote to his brother Theo between the years 1873 and 1890. They had been found by Theo's wife after his passing - which was only 6 months after Van Gogh's death. He was as much a philosopher as he was a painter. In a sense thro these letters he is telling us the story of his own life.

himself entirely to painting. Theo died at the age of 33, six months after his brother died at the age of 37. Theo is widely known for his influence on his brother; however, this often overshadows the significant impact that Theo made on the art world as a renowned art dealer: Theo played a crucial role in the introdu

Theo van Gogh (art dealer) - Wikipedia

The most momentous change in Van Gogh's life was triggered by his younger brother Theo, who advised Vincent to become an artist. As time passed, Theo also gradually assumed the role of 'wise older brother'. But why did he continue to finance Vincent? Was it the shrewd investment of an art dealer, or genuine brotherly love?

Letter from Vincent van Gogh to Theo van Gogh. Cuesmes, July 1880. My Dear Theo, I am writing to you rather reluctantly because, for a good many reasons, I have kept silent for such a long time. To some extent you have become a stranger to me, and I to you perhaps more than you think. It is probably better for us not to go on like that.
